- Reliance on managers driving digital, upskill training and other aspects of L&D

Key L&D Issues identified:

- Conflicted agenda between Health and Social Care
 - Both want same outcomes
 - Staff need to be supported to have these difficult conversations
- Difficulty getting people on courses due to pressure of day jobs
- Tiered approach to L&D
 - People don't need to know everything
 - Focus on what is required to avoid it becoming overwhelming
- Independent Learning Skills
 - Important to teach but how to embed a learning culture?
 - Often those needing to learn are the ones who don't sign up
 - Is it always fair to ask people to do learning in their own time?
- Supervision & Appraisal are key
- More training should be made mandatory
- Apprenticeships
 - Backfill is a big issue in social care
 - Other departments may be prioritised where it's easier to release staff
- Need enough skilled staff who can act as first point of contact
 - Prevents problems further down the line

Care Certificate:

- Some training providers do the theory but then cannot 'assess in practice'
- Some organisations cannot carry out the assessment themselves, which means the process falls down
